Here's How It's Done : Directions

Total Recipe Amounts:

224 grams Dead Sea Clay Powder
24 grams Rosehips Powder
24 grams Camu Camu Fruit Powder
24 grams Noni Fruit Powder
24 grams Carrot Powder
24 drops Vitamin E Oil
32 drops Amyris Essential Oil
48 grams Vegetable Glycerin

Clean and sanitize your work area and all of your packaging materials. It is suggested that you wear gloves, protective clothing, and a hair net while preparing this recipe.

Step 1: Using your scale, measure out your powders in a medium sized bowl. Weigh out the rosehips, camu camu, noni fruit, and carrot powders. The order does not matter for this step.

Step 2: Next, add 224 grams of your dead sea clay powder to that same bowl. Mix the ingredients together fully to make sure that everything is evenly dispersed.

Step 3: Now, use a disposable pipette to add 24 drops of vitamin e oil to the powders.

Step 4: Then, grab another pipette and add 32 drops of amyris essential oil.

Step 5: Finally, mix the ingredients together using either a spoon or spatula.

Step 6: The powdered portion is now finished. You can start scooping the powder into your four ounce jars. Place a lid on each jar.

Step 7: Now, take the 1 oz. bullet bottles and add in 12 grams vegetable glycerin to each of them. Place a white ribbed lid on each bottle.

Step 8: To use your facial mask, you will need a small mixing bowl. Add one tablespoon of powder, two tablespoons of water, and about 1/2 teaspoon of vegetable glycerin. Mix well.

Note: We chose to package the powder separately from the vegetable glycerin. By creating the mask without water, you will not need to add a preservative. This will allow you to prepare a quick product for your customers. Each four ounce jar will create approximately 8 facial masks.
